Justice Black Sails For U. S. September 25 As Controversy Rages

LONDON (UP)—Justice Hugo L. Black will sail from Ireland for the United States September 25 with Justice J. C. McReynolds, a fellow member of the United States Supreme Court bench as a fellow passenger, the Manchester Guardian reported today.

INQUIRY DEMANDED

WASHINGTON (UP)—Patrick Henry Kelly, a Boston lawyer, proposed to Chief Justice Evans Hughes today that the Supreme Court appoint a committee of lawyers to investigate and determine the right of Justice Hugo L. Black to take his seat on the high tribunal.

Kelly suggested that Black be advised to postpone any attempt to sit on the bench until after the court had determined his status.

Kelly's move was the second investigation proposal within 12 hours.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, D., of Montana, last night demanded that President Roosevelt appoint an impartial board to inquire into Black and the Ku Klux Klan charges. Wheeler said that if Mr. Roosevelt failed to act, the Senate should authorize its own inquiry.

Kelly's letter, which was also sent to Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, but which has no legal status before the court, said that it was "not surprising that the supporters of former 'Senator Black's confirmation, intoxicated by the obscure implications drawn from the Maudlin sentimentality of senatorial courtesy, found it more prudent to ignore and sidestep' the charges brought by Senator William E. Borah than to attempt to refute them. Borah had contended before the Senate that, due to faulty drafting of the Supreme Court retirement act, no vacancy had been created by the retirement of Justice Willis Van Devanter.

NANKING. (Copyright, 1937, By United Press)—China's 100,000,000 inhabitants organized today for a long, costly war with Japan.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, dictator of the Central government, apparently having unified the nation for the first time in recent history, started a "liberty loan" subscription campaign for $145,000,000, similar to that which the United States used 20 years ago to support her participation in the World War.

ATTACK LAUNCHED

SHANGHAI. (Copyright, 1937, By United Press)—Chinese, seizing advantage of heavy rains that immobilized Japanese airplanes and tanks, attacked ferociously all along the Shanghai front today.

Infantry, "ware to die" units and big sword men smashed at the Japanese lines in the Lutien, Lihand and Aikue sectors. Reports from the front told of savage hand to hand fighting, in which the Japanese called for reinforcements.

H. S. Pupils Display Work In Canning

Members of the home economics classes at the county high school have justification in the pride they are taking in a display of canned fruits and vegetables which may be seen in the windows of Kelly's store.

The canning is the work of the home economics classes and if we are any judge, we think we'd like to be around when those jars are opened.

The display is an example of classroom work under the direction of Miss Irene Anderson, home economics teacher.

Corn Up 17 Cts. Since Sept. 1

Rush Of Buying Sends Price Skyrocketing Friday To 1.16 Per Bushel

CHICAGO (UP)—A rush of buying on the part of "shorts" skyrocketed the price of a bushel of September corn to a new season's high today on the Chicago Board of Trade as the exchange fought to prevent a "corner" of the American market.

September futures were quoted at $1.16 and three-fourths in the latest rush to buy, an advance of 6 1/2 cents for the day. The limit on corn to be delivered this month is eight cents.

A reported fight between Cargill Grain Company of Minneapolis and the Farmers' National Grain corporation, Chicago, for control of the market has carried the price of the September futures—calling for delivery September 27 of the last remnants of the 1936 crop—from 95 cents on September 1 to today's high, a gain of 17 cents in 15 trading days.

By ROSE WILLIAMS

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Nearly half a million members of the American Legion and their families are heading toward New York for the 19th annual convention, which opens at Madison Square Garden, September 20.

According to latest reports more than a thousand families are trekking East in de luxe trailers. Most of them are traveling in their own cars. But trains and buses are carrying thousands, too.

"There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight," is in the air.

The National Drum and Bugle Corps contest, with 80 troops represented, will start drumming at 7 o'clock Monday morning at the Polo Grounds and will wind up around midnight.

Then there's the big parade the following day. It will start at 26th Street and Fifth Avenue at 8 a. m. Tuesday and will proceed north up the avenue, disbanding at 72nd Street and Fifth Avenue, after passing the reviewing stand, stationed at the Hotel Plaza, at 58th Street and Fifth Avenue. It was estimated that it would take 17 to 21 hours for the parade to pass a given point.

The highlight on the list of events for September 22, will be the All-Star Entertainment show at Madison Square Garden, starting at 10 p. m. Boxing fans will have their pugilistic appetites whetted the next night, with a mammoth amateur national boxing program at the Long Island Bowl. The opening gong will sound at 8 p. m. This event will be under the auspices of the Metropolitan A. A. U.

This year, more than ever before, women are flocking to the convention. It was reported that more than 70,000 will arrive in New York Sunday night for the Memorial Services at Madison Square Garden.

The major portion of the feminine retinue will be made up of wives and relatives of the Legionnaires. But 1,800 will attend as official delegates of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

SCIENTISTS SCALE SHIVA TEMPLE

"Unmistakable Evidence" Of Animal Life Found On "Island" In Canyon

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (UP)—A party of explorers reported today that it has found "unmistakable evidences" of animal life on an "island in the sky," 4,000 feet high and isolated from other land for 20,000 or more years.

This report, one of the most exciting in the annals of natural research, was made by two members of the party that scaled the sheer sides of the "island" yesterday. They were the first men, in living or written memory, to visit it, and, according to scientific conjecture, may have been the first men to have ever touched its soil.

The "island" is the 275-acre top of a shaft that rises from the bottom of Grand Canyon, whose walls are almost as smoothly perpendicular as the sides of a column. This shaft was formed by the cutting, grinding currents of the Colorado River as it dug out, over countless eons, the Grand Canyon. It is called Shiva Temple.

Four scientists and five packers climbed the walls yesterday. Last night all but two returned for more supplies, and reported that they had found deer runs, horns shed by deer, and traces of other animals. They found no water, which meant, M. R. Tillotson, superintendent of Grand Canyon National Park, said, that "any animals living there have developed permanent characteristics that enable them to exist with moisture from plants and what rainfall occurs."

Seals Pressing In Coast Race

Senators Must Win Two Of Remaining Four Games To Cinch First Position

By UNITED PRESS

With only four games left on the schedule, Sacramento was still trying today to clinch first place in the Pacific Coast League.

The fast-closing San Francisco Seals have won three games in a row to reduce the Solons lead to three games.

If the Sacramento continue losing, they'll find themselves out of the $15,000 bonus money everybody conceded to them a month ago.

If the Seals win all their remaining games, Sacramento must win once to tie for the top and twice to take the title. If the Seals lose once, Sacramento needs only one win to take the pennant. If the Seals lose twice, Sacramento can afford to drop its four remaining games.

The Sacramento lost their third in a row to Seattle last night by a 7-0 score.

Spotted Fever, Caused by Wood Tick's Bite, Largely Confined to Rocky Mountain Area

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

RECENTLY, a nine-year-old girl died in a Cincinnati hospital of spotted or Rocky Mountain fever. A short time ago, several cases were reported in Washington, D. C.

DR. CHRISMAN

Spotted fever has long been present in the Rocky Mountain states. It is found in Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, and as far east as Colorado and the Dakotas, but the little girl's case is the first, to my knowledge, that has been recognized in the densely populated Central states. She was reported to have been bitten by a wood tick ten days previously.

The disease was known to the Indians of the Northwest, but it did not become familiar till after the advent of the white man. Dr. E. E. Maxey of Boise, Idaho, in 1899, first described the disease and proved that it was a distinct type of acute fever.

The cause of Rocky Mountain fever is a peculiar germ belonging to the Rickettsia group, so named after Dr. Ricketts, who proved that the fever was transmitted to man by ticks, which live on chipmunks, squirrels, rabbits, and other small animals. Dr. Ricketts demonstrated that man contracted the disease only through the bite of an infected wood tick. It cannot be transmitted from man to man. Dr. Ricketts died from the disease while still studying its transmission. A similar disease, showing itself on the Eastern seaboard and in the Appalachian Mountains, is also carried by dog ticks.

Geographical location seems to have much to do with the mortality from spotted fever. In Idaho, it is only about five per cent, while in Montana, it runs as high as ninety per cent. On the Eastern coast, about twenty-five per cent of victims lose their lives.

The disease has some peculiar features. The germ attacks the inner lining of the smaller blood vessels, arteries, veins and capillaries, causing hemorrhages in and under the skin, giving rise to red spots. From these spots, it was given the name of spotted fever.

It begins to develop from four to eight days after infection. There is a day or two of mild chills, fever and weakness, then a marked chill with rapidly rising fever, severe headache, and muscular and joint pains. The worst pain is in the small of the back, calves of the legs, and in the larger joints.

The eyes become red and intolerant of light; there is a harsh, dry cough and stubborn constipation as the body seems to bake dry with fever. The temperature rises rapidly for ten days or two weeks, and then, in favorable cases, slowly subsides. In fatal cases, it continues to rise till delirium and coma take place.

The characteristic signs are a greatly enlarged spleen and the peculiar rash. This appears on the second or third day, on the back, ankles and wrists, then spreads to the neck, face, arms, and chest, but is seen only slightly on the abdomen. The eruption begins as small red spots, which at first disappear on pressure, later, they become a darker red, then purple, and remain after pressure. Sometimes they run together and cause large hemorrhagic spots.

Eradication of ticks and tick bites is our only protection. If one is bitten, a vaccine made by emulsifying infected ticks may prevent the development of the fever, if used early. The usual fever treatment, with the early use of digitals to protect a failing heart, is our best treatment.

HURRY UP!—During recent street fighting in Shanghai between Japanese and Chinese, these Japanese marines were ordered to hurry to the scene of a clash. Here they obey the order in double time. Bitter fighting has occurred in the outskirts of Shanghai, with both sides locked in a dire struggle for control of the city.

MICHIGAN REPUBLICANS LOOK TO VANDENBURG FOR PARTY STRENGTH

By WILLIAM H. McCALL

United Press Staff Correspondent
BAY CITY, Mich. (UP)—Michigan Republicans will meet here September 17 and 18 to launch their 1938 campaign against the administration of Governor Frank Murphy.

Striving for party harmony, the Republicans will rally around Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg whom many state leaders are confident will be the Republican Presidential candidate in 1940.

The Republican rally, 13 months before Michigan again elects state officers, will open the campaign at the earliest date in the state's recent history.

"We are going to reorganize and revitalize the Republican party in Michigan," James F. Thomson, chairman of the state central committee, said. Besides the committee 22 other Republican organizations, grouped under the Michigan League of Republican clubs, will participate in the rally.

Vandenberg has been conferring with state leaders since adjournment of Congress. They are convinced that, by emphasizing the senator's position as a Republican leader nationally, he will serve as the man around whom at least five factions of the party in this state can rally next year.

The senator's speech the night of September 18 to the rally has been scheduled for a nation-wide broadcast, indicating to many Michigan Democrats that Vandenberg may make it the occasion to keynote a national Republican rally.

EL DORADO CO. HIGH SCHOOL CHRONICLE

Edited By GLORIA (KERK) CORNELISON

The first student body meeting of the new term was held Friday, September 10th. It was well conducted by the new President, Chester Carsten. The minutes were read loudly by the secretary, Janice Ball, and Vice-President, Jim Schroth, sat up and paid attention, much to the contrary of the custom of the past vice-president, who usually slouched down, disinterestedly or nearly went to sleep.

The other new officers are: Commissioner of Finance, Bill Flynn; Commissioner of Entertainment, Barbara Smith; Commissioner of Publicity, Gloria Cornelison; Yell Leader, Marilyn Ruple.

The meeting was followed by a short entertainment, and if it is an example of what will come, everybody is in for a good time.

The yell leader lead the "Alma Mater," and it sounded better than it has for some time. Nice going, Marilyn!—By "Kerk."

BOY'S FORUM

The cabinet met Monday for the first session, and seemed to be a bit livelier than usual.

The usual questions were discussed and the following conclusions were made:

Forest Supervisor Edwin Smith, will be the speaker for a coming meeting; there will be a new German band organized and the cabinet will try and get inside talent for entertainment, instead of going out of the school for it. —By Calvin Wright.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The Girls' League cabinet also met Monday, the usual organizing business was discussed, along with the plans for many of the annual events of the League.

SPORTS

The turn out for football this year wasn't as large as usual, but the group was composed of a bigger and huskier bunch of fellows.

They look mighty good in light scrimmage Monday for having only two weeks' of practice. Much more pep seems to be had by all members of the team this year, including the sparkplug of the team, Coach Brown, who seems to think the boys will do O. K. for themselves if they will learn to block, tackle, punt and run plays right!

The captain and signal caller, has not been selected and will not be until the first game, Saturday, September 25th, when the locals will go to town with Sacramento or vice-versa, only there better not be any vice-versa. —By the Optimist.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS SAFEGUARDS GIVEN BY AUTHORITY

CLEVELAND, (UP) — Parents should be calm, but on their guard, during the current outbreak of infantile paralysis, believes Dr. John A. Toomey, nationally known authority on contagious diseases.

He advises parents and children: Do not drink any water about which there is a question.

Do not drink milk unless it is pasteurized and from a reliable source.

Do not eat unwashed fruit or vegetables.

Beware of unripe fruit, which is likely to cause an upset stomach.

A physician should be consulted at first signs of headache, stomach pains, nausea, vomiting, or diarrhea," Dr. Toomey said. "Greatest damage is done because most cases come too late. Early diagnosis means early treatment and early treatment means prevention of paralysis."

Use of the so-called convalescent serum, a serum drawn from the blood from a patient who has recovered from the disease, is the chief method of treatment, he said.

JUNGLE BATTLE ENDS IN DEATH OF LION AND PORCUPINE

NAIROBI, India (UP)—A grim battle between a lion and a porcupine which ended in the death of both is described in the annual report of the game warden at Tanganyika.

While hunting a man-eating lion, a game ranger was told by natives that they had found a porcupine which had fought a lion. Nearby was a dead porcupine and 100 yards away a dead lion with five quills in its chest. Two of them had pierced the heart.

The natives said that the lion attacked the porcupine, which shot his quills, but was killed by the lion before the beast succumbed.

The same report records the fate of a lion which attacked a native woman. The woman's mother ran to her daughter's assistance and jumped on the lion's back. While she was being dragged to the jungle her son arrived and struck the lion between the eyes with an axe, killing it. The mother and daughter were so severely injured that both died.

STRATEGIST—Military observers assert that much of the credit for the excellent military strategy shown by the Chinese in their struggle with Japanese forces, is due to Baron Alexander von Falkenhausen, veteran of the World War and head of a German military mission consisting of five generals and 100 other high officers. The mission is reported giving important military direction to the Chinese defense. Baron von Falkenhausen formerly spent much time as German military attaché at Tokyo.

SPOTTED FEVER FOUND TO BE CARRIED BY RABBIT TICKS

By JOHN J. CUSANO

United Press Staff Correspondent
HAMILTON, Mont. (UP)—Scientists at the U. S. Public Health Service's Rocky Mountain laboratory here are conducting experimental research work with Alaskan animal ticks, taken from Varying hares, better known as snowshoe rabbits, by Dr. C. B. Philip, who recently returned from a two-months' hunting trip to Alaska.

Positive identification of tularemia, or spotted fever, from the ticks has been made, while other tests remain to be finished, Dr. Philip said in an interview on his return to the laboratory.

Dr. Philip was sent to Alaska by the government to gather ticks to determine the nature and distribution of Rocky Mountain spotted fever virus in areas beyond the wood tick zones.

Most of the rabbits were killed in the vicinity of Fairbanks. It was in this section, Dr. Philip said, that they were found to carry the most ticks in their fur.

Average farm value of the 1936 California raisin crop was $69 a ton, an average of $13.20 a ton over the 1935 average and $15.18 higher than the $53.82 average for the five-year period of 1931-1935.

400 CASES AWAIT ACTION AS SUPREME COURT MEETS OCT. 4

By RUSSELL TURNER

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, (UP)—The Supreme Court, convening Oct. 4, faces a docket laden with legal battles which will vitally affect the lives of American citizens.

Among nearly 400 appeals already filed and awaiting the court's pleasure were cases ranging from the government's effort to fine the Illinois Central Railroad for alleged cruelty to animals to attacks on constitutionality of the Securities Exchange and Commodities Exchange regulatory acts.

Among other major questions awaiting the answers of the court are:

1. Whether the Department of Justice may continue its anti-trust action to dissolve the Aluminum Company of America for alleged monopolistic practices.
2. How far the Tennessee Valley Authority may go in its program to lower electricity rates.
3. Whether Liberty Bond owners who failed to turn in their bonds when they were called by the treasury two years ago may now collect in gold on interest coupons.
4. Whether the National Labor Relations Act is applicable to the shipbuilding industry, and validity of an injunction issued by a federal district judge against a threatened sit-down strike.

FERTILE LANDS MAY BE DESERTS IN DIM FUTURE, CLAIM

KENT, O., (UP)—Ohio, once a desert, again may become a dry, barren land after long geological ages, believes Dr. David Olsen, head of the geography department at Kent State University.

"Geologists know that Ohio and parts of Michigan, Pennsylvania and New York State had a desert climate more than a hundred million years ago," explained Dr. Olsen. "It is known that salt deposits found in these states were formed in salty lakes or lagoons off a seacoast in desert areas."

Geological study shows that the Appalachian highlands have been pushed up several thousand feet or more and then have been worn down. This has happened many times in the past.

"If the Appalachians and highlands in Tennessee and Arkansas should rise to an elevation greater by a mile or so than they are today, we would have adequate cause for desert conditions in Ohio, since our rain ultimately must come from the Gulf of Mexico or the Atlantic Ocean," Dr. Olsen said.

Improved Translations Of Bible Stressed

SALT LAKE CITY, (UP)—Until recently the Bible was only the result of countless revisions of medieval texts. Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed, head of the department of religious education at the University of Chicago and author of several versions of the New Testament, said here.

He reported that, since 1910, scholars have unearthed thousands of manuscripts in Egypt and the Near East. Now there are copies of the Gospel dating back to the third and fourth centuries, A. D. The newer translations give meaning to many phrases that are unintelligible in the St. James version, he said.

The Chicago educator is on a vacation tour of the western national parks with his wife, a brother, T. B. Goodspeed, and Joseph Selove, young University of Chicago political science student.

VILLAGE CAUCUS SETTLES PRIMARY ELECTION IN OHIO TOWN

WELLINGTON, O. (UP)—Primary election voters here again have upheld a record held year after year—nine votes in all were cast.

Election laws require that a primary election be held in a town the size of Wellington. Local citizens, however, prefer to ignore this method of selecting candidates for public offices and continue to use their own method of selection—a "peoples' caucus."

At this "peoples' caucus," in effect here for 30 years, any citizen wishing to run for any office merely files his intention at a local drug store, paying a registration fee of $2. This "choose-to-run" registration must be filed about 10 days before the caucus.

While technically a primary election, the caucus is as good as election because the "peoples' choice almost invariably wins.

The nine votes cast in this year's primary were all in the third precinct. There are five precincts in the village.

J. E. Stead, Reno, Nev., recently bought six purebred Hereford females from F. H. Belden, Horton, Kans.

20,000 SOLDIERS FIGHT AGAIN IN SHAM BATTLE OF ANTIETAM

SHARPSBURG, Md. (UP)—More than 20,000 modern soldiers, clad in Blue and Gray of the Civil War, were to clash today in a fierce re-enactment of the Battle of Antietam, which occurred 75 years ago, before President Roosevelt, a score of governors and other high dignitaries.

The sham battle throughout the area adjacent to this sleepy Maryland hamlet is the high mark of a two weeks' celebration of the 75th anniversary of the battle in charge of the United States Antietam Celebration Commission, which was created by Congress.

The observance has attracted thousands of sightseers from all states.

The battle was one of the crucial fights of the Civil War, resulting in checking of Confederate forces under General Robert E. Lee on their first invasion of the North. More than 23,000 soldiers on both sides were killed in the fighting.

It was this decisive victory that brought hope of success to the Union forces and led to the famous Emancipation Proclamation by President Lincoln shortly afterward.

MISSOURI ADOPTS GAS FOR EXECUTIONS HENCEFORTH

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UP)—Missouri this month became the first mid-western state to abolish hanging and substituted death in the lethal gas chamber as the legal method of execution.

The capital punishment measure, with more than 100 other acts of the legislature, became effective this month, and work was begun on the death house in the state penitentiary here.

Passage of the act followed a series of "Roman holiday" hangings in the state, attended by large crowds of men, women and some times children. At one public execution, bleachers were erected to accommodate the crowd.

Attorneys and police believed juries would be freer with the death penalty now that sentences would no longer be carried out in the county of conviction but at the state prison.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON (UP)—A new and startling note was introduced into football here last night by Mr. George Preston Marshall, America's wealthiest and profoundest thinking laundry man.

Without warning, Mr. Marshall provided a night club setting for the game between the New York Giants and his own Washington Redskins, and for nearly two hours the bruising professionals belabored one another in an atmosphere very reminiscent of the Stork Club and El Morocco.

Directly on the 50-yard line Mr. Marshall, a man of a million ideas and dollars to match, had a 40 by 50 patch of mahogany woodwork, on which was seated a combination jazz and rhumba band of the hottest caliber. And from the opening kick-off to the final plunge these masters of the clarinet, saxophone and snare drum played with all the earnestness of a sophomore substitute making a try for his varsity letter.

During time outs and rest periods, a handsome young man who was introduced as the "romantic tenor of the air" stepped to the microphone and, using hand gestures that made you think of a half back grabbing for a pass just beyond his reach, rendered such fine old gridiron numbers as "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and "It Looks Like Rain in Cherry Blossom Lane."

Had the Griffith stadium electrician dimmed the flood lights a bit, and an adagio team whirled and spun on the bandstand, it would have been so night-clubbish that even Winchell would have felt at home.

Mr. Marshall's innovation really did not come as a surprise to those who know him well. From one end of Broadway to the other, and on all the cross streets, he is recognized as one of the high goal night club patrons. He is very unhappy when he is not seated within earshot of the rhumba guard's gay rattle and the trombone's melodious toot. As president of the Redskins, he felt obliged to attend their games. So, in order to keep his night club ranking, he put a floor show right out on the gridiron.

If Mr. Marshall's idea catches on it might well revolutionize the character of the game of football. Torch singers would become as valuable to a club as 200-pound tackles, and tap dancers with a novel routine would get as many headlines as a triple threat back.

The entire set-up of the game would be changed. A coach would not only have to be a gridiron strategist—he would have to have a flair for stage directing, designing, and lighting. Scouts would have to spend their spare time in vaudeville houses, seeking new talent.

It wouldn't be long before Hollywood directors would be brought into do the coaching. There would be backfields directed by David W. Griffith, lines by Cecil De Mille, and ends by Albertina Rasch.

And the music and dancing most likely would count in the scoring, and you'd see a football story that read is on again. Dartmouth's famous All-American quarterback, Eddie Dooley, is back on the air over the Columbia Coast-to-Coast Network every Thursday and Saturday with his last-minute football news.

Makers of Chesterfield Cigarettes, sponsors of Eddie Dooley, are certainly making a bow to the wide interest in sport news. Their baseball series this year, with Paul Douglas, satisfied fans North, East, South and West, and the Dooley football programs will be on a larger scale than ever before, necessitating two complete talks on each broadcast date; one at 6:30 p. m. New York time for the East and Middle West, and one at 8:30 p. m. New York time to cover the games for the fans in the Rocky Mountain States and the Far West.

In addition to firing away each Thursday with his uncanny predictions of the week-end results and reviewing the highlights of the games each Saturday, Dooley plans to have leading football coaches and authorities as guests on his programs from time to time. And speaking of authorities, Dooley, himself, is considered by football followers as one of America's outstanding experts on the game. Jock Sutherland, the well-known Pittsburgh mentor, once remarked that Eddie Dooley had done more for the game of football than any former college star he knew of. At the present time, in addition to being constantly in demand for magazine articles on football, Eddie Dooley is holding down an important berth in the sports department of the New York Sun in association with well-known sports writers like Grantland Rice and George Trevor. His training and background as one of the outstanding field generals the East ever produced, has given him remarkable insight into the whys and wherefores of football plays and his judgment on football news makes his broadcasts for beyond ordinary interest.

The Eddie Dooley football programs bid fair to be top-notch sports programs in every respect, even to the personality of the announcer, Paul Douglas, who is himself one of radio's best-known sports commentators and carried the baseball banner for Chesterfield on the Columbia network all through the 1937 season. The big kick-off of the week for football followers comes when the whistle blows for Eddie Dooley every Thursday, and the pay-off will come the following Saturdays when the fans tune in to see if Dooley's dope was right.

Nelson Putteny, Paulden, Ariz., recently bought thirty-five Hereford bulls from Haley Smith, Sterling, Colo.

something like this:
"Notre Dame and Northwestern fought to a 15-15 deadlock here today. The Irish scored all their points on the football field, but their efforts were offset by the overwhelming superiority of the Northwestern tango band, ballet troupe, and trained seals.

"Northwestern was awarded 15 points for its floor show. Notre Dame's entertainers, which included a juggling turn, was very poor and did not score."

Pearl Harbor Aerial Razed To Aid Fliers

HONOLULU (UP)—With the ever-growing increase of aviation lines to Honolulu, and especially that of the Pan American Clippers, the Navy Department has ordered the destruction of three huge 800-foot steel radio towers at Pearl Harbor. They have been declared a menace to aerial navigation.

The towers have not been in use since the naval radio station was moved to the Luauale ammunition depot some 12 miles away.
